- when authorised people provide us with your personal information on your behalf;
- when you attend one of our events;
- through your access and use of our Website; and
- when you apply for a job with us.

We may also collect personal information from third parties including data analysis agencies.

COLLECTION OF ANONYMOUS INFORMATION

In order to measure the success of our online advertising we may use pixels, or transparent GIF files, to establish which of our online adverts successfully bring people to our Website. The GIF files are provided by third parties who provide us with online advertising analysis. This system places a cookie on your browser when you enter our Website via online advertisements allowing us to see which online advertisements bring us the most visitors to our Website. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies but you can change your browser to reject them. It is still possible to access our Website without having cookies enabled.

The information collected on our behalf is anonymous and does not personally identify you, which, for statistical purposes includes:

- your server address;
- your top level domain name (e.g. .com, .gov, .au, etc.)
- the date, time and length of your visit to the Website;
- the pages you accessed;
- the previous website you visited;
- the type of browser you are using; and
- the protocol version used (e.g. HTTP, FTP).

PURPOSES FOR COLLECTING, HOLDING, USING AND DISCLOSING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

Inclusive Sport SA may use personal information about you so that we can provide you with a high quality of customer service.

We collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information for the following purposes:

- to provide products and/or services to you and to send communications to you;
- to answer enquiries and provide information or advice about existing and new products or services;
- to advise you if we relocate;
- to assess the performance of the Website and to improve the operation of the Website;

- to assess our customer service and to improve our customer service to you;
- to conduct business processing functions including providing personal information to our related bodies corporate, contractors, service providers or other third parties;
- for the administrative, marketing (including direct marketing and marketing research), planning, product or service development, quality control, human resources, educational and research purposes of Inclusive Sport SA, its related bodies corporate, contractors or service providers;
- to provide your updated personal information to our related bodies corporate, contractors or service providers;
- to update our records and keep your contact details up to date;
- to process and respond to any complaint or enquiry made by you; and
- to comply with any law, rule, regulation, lawful and binding determination, decision or direction of a regulator, or in co-operation with any governmental authority of any country.

Inclusive Sport SA may contact you regarding anything set out in the above by e-mail, post or telephone.

We may also collect personal information about third parties from you, such as personal information about your family members, so that we can provide products and services to those third parties. If you provide personal information about a third-party individual to us, you must ensure that the third-party individual is aware of this Privacy Policy, understands it and agrees to accept it. If you provide personal information about a third-party individual and that individual does not have the capacity to understand and agree to these terms (for example, a minor), we require a parent or guardian to acknowledge and agree to this paragraph. The acknowledgement will be through the acceptance of the Terms and Conditions of the Website.

From time to time we may use the information you give us for marketing purposes. Other than as required by law, or as set out in this Privacy Policy, we will not disclose information about you to any third party without your permission. Your personal information will not be shared, sold, rented or disclosed other than as described in this Privacy Policy. Inclusive Sport SA will not use your personal information for any purpose for which you would not reasonably expect us to use your personal information. Additionally, Inclusive Sport SA will not disclose your sensitive information without your consent, unless there is a need to disclose such information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) or to comply with any other regulatory requirement.

Inclusive Sport SA will immediately remove your personal information from its database if requested by you. Inclusive Sport SA will do this in accordance with their policy on destroying personal information (see Destruction of Information), in order to keep your information secure.

Where possible, Inclusive Sport SA will give you the option of not identifying yourself or of using a pseudonym. Inclusive Sport SA may not always be able to interact with you in this manner, especially where it is required by law to identify you before providing certain information. In general, Inclusive Sport SA will not be able to assist you anonymously or where you are using a pseudonym when it is impractical or we are required or authorised by law or a court/tribunal order to deal with you personally.

DIRECT MARKETING

By accepting the Conditions of the Website and providing us with your personal information, you consent to us sending you direct marketing communications by any of the methods listed above (see Purposes for Collecting, Holding, Using and Disclosing your Personal Information). If you indicate a preference for a method of communication, we will endeavour to use that method whenever practical to do so. In addition, at any time you may opt out of receiving marketing communications from us by contacting us (see contact details below) or by using opt out facilities provided in the marketing communications, and we will then ensure that your name is removed from our mailing list.

Please note that by opting out of receiving marketing communications, you may still receive communications from us (such as invoices and notices) in relation to the products and services you have purchased from us.

DISCLOSURE TO OVERSEAS RECIPIENTS

We may disclose your personal information to our related bodies corporate, third party suppliers, service providers, government and quasi-governmental organisations, prospective purchasers of part or whole of our business and stock exchanges located overseas for some of the purposes listed above (see Disclosure of Personal Information).

We take reasonable steps to ensure that the overseas recipients of your personal information do not breach the privacy obligations relating to your personal information in place in Australia.

DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Inclusive Sport SA may disclose your personal information to:

- our employees, related bodies corporate, contractors or service providers for the purposes of operating our Website or our business, fulfilling requests by you, and to otherwise provide products and services to you including, without limitation, suppliers and manufacturers, web hosting providers, IT systems administrators, mailing houses, couriers, payment processors, data entry service providers, electronic network administrators, debt collectors, archivists and professional advisors such as accountants, solicitors, business advisors and consultants;
- suppliers and other third parties with whom we have commercial relationships, for business, marketing, and related purposes;
- government and regulatory bodies and law enforcement agencies;
- any other organisation for any authorised purpose with your express consent, including your insurers and your solicitors; and
- any other party, at any time, in any manner, provided that such disclosure is with your consent.

We may combine or share any information that we collect from you with information collected by any of our related bodies corporate.

We are not responsible for the privacy policies of any third party, and we accept no liability on behalf of any third party. Third parties are responsible for informing you about their own privacy practices.

Except as set out in this Privacy Policy, Inclusive Sport SA will only disclose personal information with your permission or as required or allowed to do so by law.

ACCESS TO PERSONAL INFORMATION

We require accurate personal information about you to ensure you receive the best possible service from Inclusive Sport SA.

You will be able to access personal information that Inclusive Sport SA holds about you if it can be readily retrieved, subject to some exceptions allowed by law. Where we hold information that you are entitled to access, we will try to provide you with a suitable means of accessing it (for example, by mailing or emailing it to you).

To request access to your personal information please contact Inclusive Sport SA in writing. We may charge you a reasonable fee to cover our administrative and other reasonable costs in providing the information to you. We will not charge you for simply making the request and will not charge for making any corrections to your personal information.

There may be instances where we cannot grant you access to the personal information we hold. For example, we may need to refuse access if granting access would interfere with the privacy of others or if it would result in a breach of confidentiality. In these instances, we will provide written reasons for any refusal.

UPDATING PERSONAL DETAILS

We take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is up-to-date whenever we collect it or use it. This may include, for example, using data obtained from third parties to verify the accuracy of your personal information.

If you find that current personal information we hold about you is inaccurate, incomplete or out-of-date, please contact us immediately and we will take reasonable steps to correct it.

INABILITY TO COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

If you do not provide us with the personal information described above (see Collection of Personal Information), some or all of the following may happen:

- we may not be able to provide the requested products or services to you, either to the same standard as if we did have access to personal information, or at all;
- we may not be able to process any third party discounts or benefits;
- we may not be able to provide you with information about products and services that you may want, including information about discounts, sales or special promotions; or
- we may be unable to tailor the content of our Website to your preferences and your experience of our Website may not be as enjoyable or useful.

SECURE STORAGE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We take reasonable steps to ensure we protect any personal information that we hold from misuse, loss and unauthorised access, modification and disclosure.

Your personal information may be stored in hard copy documents and electronically.

We maintain physical and electronic security over our paper and electronic data storage. We also maintain computer and network security. For example, we use firewalls (security measures for the Internet) and other systems such as user identifiers and passwords to control access to computer systems.

Although we take reasonable steps to maintain the security of our Internet connections, for reasons outside of our control, information transmitted to us over the Internet may not be absolutely secure. Inclusive Sport SA assumes no responsibility for disclosure of data due to errors in transmission.

DESTRUCTION OF INFORMATION

If the personal information we collect is no longer needed for any purposes and we are not required by law to retain it, Inclusive Sport SA has procedures in place to ensure that any document or record containing your personal or health information is disposed of in a manner that preserves your privacy.

Inclusive Sport SA will immediately remove your personal information from its database if requested by you.

THIRD PARTY WEBSITES

Our Website may contain links to other mobile applications or websites operated by third parties. We make no representations or warranties in relation to the privacy practices of any third party mobile applications or websites and we are not responsible, or in any way liable, for the privacy policies or the content of any third party mobile applications or websites. Third party mobile applications or websites are responsible for informing you about their own privacy practices.

We take precautions to protect your personal information collected through <http://www.inclusivesportsa.com.au> but in the event that our system is infiltrated by unauthorised third parties, we will not be liable for any resulting misuse of personal information.

INDEMNITY

Whilst we will use all reasonable endeavours to safeguard your personal information, we cannot guarantee that your personal information will be protected against unauthorised access, misuse or disclosure. We do not accept any liability for the improper actions of unauthorised third parties.

Inclusive Sport SA also assumes no responsibility or liability for third parties such as advertisers or other entities who utilise banner advertisements and links from our Website. If you click through a banner advertisement or link and submit your information to a third party, you will be subject to the privacy policies of that third party.

Inclusive Sport SA ensures that all employees and contractors are bound by a confidentiality agreement requiring that they do not use or disclose your personal information in a manner contrary to this Privacy Policy.

We retain your personal information in line with relevant legislation and for as long as the information is relevant to our business purposes as set out above (see Collection of Personal Information) or until you request that we remove the information by contacting Inclusive Sport SA.

You agree to defend, indemnify and hold harmless Inclusive Sport SA, our officers, directors, employees, agents, subcontractors, licensors, and suppliers, from and against all claims, actions, demands, liabilities and settlements, arising in connection with your use of the Website or your breach of the Privacy Policy or Terms and Conditions.

CHANGES TO PRIVACY POLICY

All information which is held by Inclusive Sport SA is governed by the latest version of this Privacy Policy at all times. Inclusive Sport SA may change this Privacy Policy at any time without notice. We request that you check our Privacy Policy regularly so that you are aware of any changes.

COMPLAINTS

If you believe that your privacy has been breached, please contact us immediately using the contact information below and provide details of the incident so that we can investigate it.

We request that complaints about breaches of privacy be made in writing, so we can be sure about the details of the complaint and undertake our own thorough investigation into such breach. We will attempt to confirm as appropriate and necessary with you, your understanding of the conduct relevant to the complaint and what you expect as an outcome. We will investigate your complaint and will advise you of the outcome of our investigations in writing.

If you feel we have failed to deal with your complaint in a satisfactory manner, you can make a complaint about the handling of your personal information by Inclusive Sport SA to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (Australia) (www.oaic.gov.au).

For more information about privacy in general please contact the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) (www.oaic.gov.au).
